

How do we ensure regulatory compliance and ethical value chains at Glamox with the IntegrityNext solutions?

Glamox is a Norwegian industrial group that develops, manufactures and distributes professional lighting solutions for the global market.

In understanding our customers' needs and expectations, we are committed to delivering high-quality products and solutions with sustainable and ethical value chains. We utilise the IntegrityNext solution to consistently monitor our direct spend suppliers in terms of the relevant sustainability topics across our three company divisions: Professional Building Solutions (PBS), Global Marine & Offshore (GMO) and Sourcing, Production and Logistics (SPL).

Our supply chain sustainability priorities

01

Regulatory compliance

At Glamox, we operate with integrity, respecting the laws in all countries where we are active. Compliance with national, regional and international regulations are mandatory for Glamox and our suppliers.

02

Mission & values

However, business ethics extend beyond simple compliance. We strive to conduct our business in a way that makes people proud to work with, and for, Glamox. We also make it a point to achieve sustainability for a better future.

03

Automation

We fully recognise the potential of digital solutions aimed at automating the supplier assessment process and ensuring scalability and consistency across all divisions. We use the best available technology to support our mission.

“With the IntegrityNext solution, we can ensure that our direct spend suppliers across the globe share our values and meet our expectations in terms of regulatory compliance.”

How do we use the IntegrityNext solution?

We utilise the IntegrityNext assessments to continuously monitor our suppliers' compliance with the applicable regulations in terms of environment, human rights & labour, anti-bribery, anti-corruption & more.

In the first step, we monitor our direct spend suppliers on the IntegrityNext platform. Ultimately, we will extend this to other purchase categories as well.

With IntegrityNext, we've managed to establish a consistent supplier assessment process globally and across all divisions.
